Outside Help for the Suffrage Cause in California

General Horace Carpenter, an old and very well known resident of California, now a resident of New York sent a contribution of five hundred dollars this week to the campaign committee for the use of the equal suffragists of California. In his letter accompanying the gift General Carpenter said: 'From the information I get, the prospect seems favorable in California. I have long been an advocate of a full and equal vote for woman, especially in a country like ours of free common schools and an advanced civilization with democratic institutions and tendencies; confident that on the whole it would tend to promote peace and good government and common welfare.'

Other contributions for equal suffrage work from New York last week were five hundred dollars from the National Suffrage Association to the College League of San Francisco, and three New York organizers lent by the Woman Suffrage Party of New York to the Campaign Committee and all of their expenses paid by the New York women.

Senator Moses Clapp, of Minnesota who is speaking throughout California on direct legislation is speaking also for equal suffrage in which he thoroughly believes.

WHAT SAN FRANCISCO IS DOING
The supervisors of San Francisco have endorsed suffrage by a vote of 13 to 4.

The first street meeting for equal suffrage was held in San Francisco on September 5. An automobile with five women speakers and one man, a woman singer and a boy rumpeter drew up at a corner of Fillmore and Post streets and talked for more than an hour to a group of between three and four hundred men, who afterward crowded around and asked for literature and buttons. From now on street meetings will be held almost nightly.

Governor Hiram Johnson and Assemblyman C. C. Young who spoke on the direct legislation amendments in Berkeley last week found their audience half women and complimented the near citizens on the interest they were already taking. Both speakers said that the passing of the woman suffrage amendment a foregone conclusion.

Fix Tax Levy

Pursuant to the law the Board of Supervisors met at the Court House Monday and fixed the tax levy for the fiscal year 1911-12. The levy is practically the same as last year—$1.70 outside and $1.20 inside incorporated cities.

Inside Cities.....	$1.20
General.....	0.45
School.....	0.29
Salary.....	0.17
Indigent.....	0.13
Panama Pacific Exposition....	0.05
State.....	0.05
Bond.....	0.05
Advertising.....	0.01
Road (1, 3, and 4 Sup. Dist.)..	0.50
Road (2 and 5 Sup. Dist.)....	0.60

In Supervisors Districts 1, 3, and 4, the levy will be $1.70, and in Districts 2 and 5 it will be $1.80, ten cents additional being added to the road fund. The road fund had to be raised on account of the loss to the districts of the railroad and other corporation taxes, which are now paid direct to the state.

In making the levy the Supervisors provided a five cent tax for the Sonoma County Exhibit at the Panama Pacific Exposition; one cent for exploiting Sonoma County in Sunset magazine.

The special taxes in Sonoma Valley Union High School districts are as follows:

Dunbar, Enterprise, Flowery, San Luis, Sonoma, Wauwagh, each 22 cents each high school special; El Verano grammar bond 14; high school special, 22, total 36; Glen Ellen, grammar bond 13, high school special, 22, grammar special 26, total 64; Huichica, grammar bond, 9, high school special, 22, grammar bond special 16, total 47.

Grangers Meet at Glen Ellen

There was a large gathering of the Grangers of Sonoma county at Glen Ellen on Saturday when Glen Ellen Grange entertained the members of Pomona Grange. The meeting was held in Native Sons' Hall. It was an all day session, with splendid harvest feast served at noon by the ladies of Glen Ellen.

The program, which was arranged by a committee composed of Mrs. A. O. Gaige, Mrs. Robert P. Hill and Mrs. Lottie Payne, included music, papers and addresses, and many interesting features.

Mrs. Robert Potter Hill read an able paper embracing a number of the features of the general topic of the meeting, "Know Your Country." Thomas Johnson spoke instructively on spraying and the care of orchards.

Secretary Edward H. Brown of the Santa Rosa Chamber of Commerce, delivered a fine, stirring address on the subject of organizing home industry. He spoke of the many products of Sonoma county, not forgetting the outputs of the factories. A fitting adornment of the walls, in connection with this address, was furnished by the labels that are used upon packages of the products manufactured or grown in this wonderful county of ours.

Pomona Grange by resolution adopted resolution by Progressive Grange of Healdsburg relative to the State Highway that is to be built with the $18,000,000 bonds that were voted some time ago. After the preamble the resolution says:

"Resolved, That we, the members of Pomona Sonoma County Grange, are strongly in favor of a State Highway which will extend through our county from north to south and we hereby pledge our united and individual support to secure the same and would call upon our sister granges throughout the county to assist in the good work."

The Granges of the county were well represented at the meeting, and the gathering was a great success.

Grape Growers Pledge Money

Grape growers and winemakers of Sonoma county, the greatest dry wine county in the world, gathered in Santa Rosa Saturday at a largely attended meeting in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce and pledged their financial and moral support to a campaign to protect the great wine industry of Sonoma county and incidentally the wine industry of the state.

All over the state the grape growers and wine makers have been agreeing to contribute to the fund being raised to conduct a campaign of education so that in dealing with the great wine industry there will be no extremely radical and unfair legislation thrust upon it. The forms of agreement signed up by the grape growers and wine makers of the state are as follows:

"We, the undersigned grape growers of California, who do not crush our own grapes, hereby agree on November 1, 1911, we will pay to the Grape Growers' Association of California five cents on every ton of grapes we sell to the winery as a contribution to the educational campaign being carried on by the above association."

The agreement of the wine makers reads:

"We, the undersigned, Winemakers of California, mutually agree each with the other to severally pay to the Grape Growers' Association of California, an amount equal to ten cents a ton upon each and every ton of grapes each of us may crush during the vintage of 1911, at our several respective wineries and distilleries, one-half of said amount to become due and payable once, the other half on November 1, 1911."

As a result of the meeting and the sending out of the contracts previously, it was announced when the footings had been made at the conclusion of the meeting that to date over 4,000 tons had been pledged—just a tithe of what it is hoped will be contracted, as it is thought Sonoma county should be a banner county.

The meeting was presided over by Senator L. W. Juillard, and was addressed at length by H. F. Stoll, of San Francisco, secretary of the Grape Growers' Association of California.

Among those that signed the agreement we noticed the following from Sonoma valley: Julius Wegener, Glen Ellen; W. Mackintosh, Sonoma; A. Missback, Shellville; Chas. Spindler, Sonoma; Pag n. ros, Kenwood.

Arrested in Frisco

Sheriff Jack Smith received a communication from the officers in San Francisco last Friday inquiring if there had been any report of a theft of several silver articles in this county recently, and stated that a man had been arrested in San Francisco on that day having in his possession a package of spoons marked "A. B." and several parts of manicuring sets. Papers found on his person evidenced the fact that the arrested man had just come from Sonoma county, and it was thought that he had been around Boyes Springs and El Verano.

No report of such loss had been made to the sheriff's office from this valley, and Constable Ryan's investigations failed to disclose any robbery that has been made in this locality.

Nolan Given Principalship

Walter C. Nolan, formerly principal of the Sonoma Valley Union High School some three years ago, and a former member of the Sonoma County Board of Education, prior to removing to Berkeley to reside, has been appointed to the principalship of the Bernal Evening school in San Francisco, and has already entered upon his duties. The school is a large one and there is no question about Nolan's ability to fulfill all requirements. His many friends in this valley congratulate him on his appointment.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 22, 1911.

We said our say before the fire, and the people of Sonoma are now saying the same thing.

The constitutionality of the law forbidding the use of slot machines and other mechanical gambling devices was upheld by the Supreme Court last Saturday when the habeas corpus petition of L. Rodgers of San Francisco was denied.

Last week Maine held a special election to decide whether the constitutional amendment should be repealed. Complete official returns show there were a majority of 26 votes in favor of repeal. Twenty days has been allowed for the city and town clerks to check results.

A produce journal of the middle west in commenting upon the price of eggs which had reached the price of 20 cents on the Chicago market, asks if eggs "will not soon be ranked with precious stones." At the time the article was written eggs were bringing 34 cents on the Frisco markets. However, the chicken men on this coast have no made much this year owing to the high prices paid for feed and the low prices received for eggs, which are much lower than received last year. Our eastern friend probably refers to the barn yard fowl and knows nothing about select or firsts.

The whole nation is watching the cross continent flights for Hearst's $50,000, and the plucky aviators seem to be more safe while soaring the skies than when on the ground fighting souvenir fiends and gay bedecked kissing bugs. Heroism always was and always will be worshiped, but in so bowing to the darling let us not forget and get in the way when a safe landing is sought or try to poke fingers through the frail cloth of the planes while the aviator is seeking the aid of the ever absent police. Some one will win the prize and all should be generous enough to lend a helping hand instead of hampering the aviators at every stop. In the early days when a train passed for the first time over a new road bed the people climbed to the house tops at a safe distance to watch it go by. Now they want to climb to the very top of the aeroplane itself and write their autograph, caring little about the damage they do.

Is Suffrage Wise?

Woman suffrage was launched in Wyoming in 1869. After a test of 21 years, it was taken up in 1893 by the neighboring state of Colorado, and three years later by Utah. Spreading on into the adjoining state of Idaho, it was eagerly watched by the next door people of Washington, who in turn adopted it only about one year ago.

Now, do people keep on taking up a practice if their neighbors prove it a failure?

New Zealand gave women the ballot in 1893. The other Australasian states have also given suffrage to women, and recently the senate of Federated Austria adopted resolutions expressing satisfaction at the beneficial workings of woman suffrage, and urging all nations enjoying representative government would be well repaid by giving votes to women.

These are facts. Put on your thinking cap, Mr. Doubter.

The Amendments

Senator J. L. and Assemblyman Slater have been invited to address a public meeting to be held in Union Hall on next Wednesday evening, September 27th, at which time they will discuss the various Constitutional Amendments on which we are to vote on October 8th.

These gentlemen are well posted on all questions connected with these proposed changes, and no doubt can give the voters much information and it is hoped that all who are in doubt as to how they should vote will attend this meeting.

WRAPPED IN FLAMES.

Well-known Landmarks Destroyed by Tuesday's Fire.

Over $40,000 Worth of Property Reduced to Ashes. Wine Used to Conquer Flames.

It came, we saw, it conquered. The long feared fire demon in its third attempt broke forth anew on Tuesday last in this city and with hungry reckless buildings up and away in a cloud of smoke and flames and the residents of our historic town realized that the time had come to fight for life and property as we never had fought before.

Exactly at 12:30 on the day mentioned, when all were engaged in satisfying the cravings of the inner man, the ringing of the fire bell sent chills coursing up and down one's spine with its incessant clatter, and each home poured forth the entire family to assist in choking the flame demon into submission.

The fire started in Fredrickson's Shoe Shop, located where V. R. Rodolf had a shoe shop for several years, and was due to trouble with an oil stove, and began to spread north and south along First Street East.

Courageous firemen tried in every conceivable way to check the flames, but every foot was gradually given until practically the whole block was one seething mass.

Hundreds of men, women and children fought near the flames and rescued property right and left from the demon's grasp, and so zealous were they that they had to be driven from the flame swept buildings when it became apparent that the roofs were about to fall.

From the shoe shop the fire spread south to the two story frame building owned by Mrs. J. A. Poppe and occupied on the lower floor by Attorney R. A. Poppe's law offices and the second story occupied by Mr. Julius Poppe and family and Mrs. Buchan and children.

For a time it was thought that the flames could be checked here, but the heat was too intense and though the firemen swathed themselves in wet sacks they had to give back and make way for the flames which bucked their way against wind and water and leaped the driveway between Poppe's law office and Mrs. Poppe's store, where hundreds were removing the stock of groceries and hardware until the roof began to sag and topple.

Meanwhile to the north the fire had been gradually eating its way, licking up all inflammable material from the adobe buildings and gaining in volume, driving another rescue party before it.

The Von Geldern building, occupied by S. Poppe as a residence and second hand store, was the first on this side to go down before the onslaught, and hardly a long breath was taken before the balance of the block was in flames. The Bismarck Hotel, owned by the Modini estate and occupied by Mrs. Happe; rooms occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Al. Miller, rooms occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Decanini, Mrs. Barbarin's building, occupied by the Cantoni bakery, the Pinelli Hotel, occupied by A. Pinelli and family, Mrs. Yenni's ice cream parlor and Francischi's barber shop, were soon in flames.

On Spain Street crowds assisted in working the old antiquated pump, and others fought the flying sparks on the roofs of the Schocken building and the Toscano Hotel.

The Schocken building caught fire twice and the Toscano Hotel three times. The building occupied by the Perkins family at the upper end of the street caught fire.

Across Spain Street from the Pinelli building Mission San Francisco de Solano sweltered in the heat and watched, as it were, its comrades in the making of Sonoma's history pass away in flames.

To the rear of the Pinelli Hotel stood a small winery and, as the water supply was inefficient bucket after bucketfuls of wine were thrown on the warping roof.

A wall to the north and a wall to the south checked the seething mass and the wind whipped around just enough to drive scorching heat and leaping blaze back over its burned course, thus assisting in quenching its empowering thirst.

Along the plaza were scores of watchers and fatigued fighters, and several times furniture and other articles had to be moved back and fires fought which set the grass burning repeatedly. In several instances articles that had been removed from the buildings burned on the lawn of the plaza.

Backing the men on every hand was a corps of ladies encouraging the fighters to renewed efforts and quenching their thirsts with water and coffee, while others worked side by side with the men in removing articles of value. In fact, so zealous were they that it was almost impossible to keep them from entering buildings just ready to topple.

From the country surrounding poured the inhabitants who pulled their coats and entered into the unequal contest against flame and smoke, and for two and one half hours every effort was used to quench the hungry lash of the fire.

Nothing availed. The water supply was inadequate and the courageous firemen took their lives in their hands and mounted shanking buildings in order to reach the advance of the conflagration.

The Emparan system furnished water throughout the fire, but with insufficient pressure, and it was like throwing a bucket of water in a fiery furnace.

All cried for the Lewis water, but too late for that cry. This system was put out of commission by our board of trustees some time ago. The reservoir was drained at the time and a cement bottom is being put in the same.

A report was passed around that Mr. Lewis refused to turn on the water from his system. At the time the fire started Mr. Lewis and family were in Santa Rosa and did not leave there until after 1 p. m., and knew nothing of the fire until he reached the upper part of the valley, and upon hearing the news drove directly to Sonoma to help if possible.

The fire engine was out of repair, ladders were frail and easily broken, tools and nozzles were missing, and it seemed almost impossible to get the apparatus working properly.

F. O. Fredrickson states that he does not know how the fire started. He claims that there had been no fire in his rooms since 6 o'clock a. m.

Also that he did not have a fire at noon, having lunched on cold potatoes and herring. He doesn't know how the fire started and states emphatically that the fire did not start in his kitchen. He was compelled to rush through the flames to reach the street. His hair was singed and he was burned slightly about the head and face.

No accidents were reported other than a few scratches, burns and bruises, and it is a wonder to all that so large a corps of workers could take so many chances and stand such intense heat without some one being seriously injured.

Those who lost in the conflagration are as follows:

Mrs. J. A. Poppe—store and contents, also two story dwelling. Damage $15,000. Insurance $8,000.

ENFORCEMENT OF LAW

Men's League Vote in Favor of Strict Enforcement of the Tobacco Law.

At the last meeting of the Men's League, it was unanimously voted by the members present that the League should publicly go on record as favoring the strict enforcement of the criminal law in Sonoma, and the secretary was instructed to prepare a statement to this effect and to the papers for publication.

In further evidence of this decision, the secretary was instructed to call the attention of the public generally, as well as those more directly concerned, to the fact that so far as the League is informed, every dealer in tobacco in Sonoma has been violating the State law for several months past, thereby rendering himself liable to fine or imprisonment.

Attention is therefore called to the following copy of the act referred to: "CHAP. 283.—An Act to amend Section 308 of the Penal Code of the State of California. Approved March 24, 1911.

"The People of the State of California, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

"SEC. 1. Section three hundred and eight of the Penal Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"308. Every person, firm or corporation which sells or gives or in any way furnishes to another person who is in fact under the age of eighteen years any tobacco, cigarette or cigarette papers or any other preparation of tobacco is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished for the first offense by a fine not less than twenty five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than sixty days; and for the second offense by a fine of fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than ninety days; and for each subsequent offense by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars and not more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than ninety days nor more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Every person, firm or corporation which sells, or deals in tobacco or preparation thereof shall, within ninety days after this act shall be come effective, post conspicuously and keep so posted in his or their place of business a copy of this act, and any such person failing to do so shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of five dollars for the first offense, and twenty-five dollars for each succeeding violation of this provision, or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days.

"The secretary of state is hereby authorized to have printed sufficient copies of this act to enable him to furnish dealers in tobacco with copies thereof upon their request for the same."

The League calls particular attention to the fact that while the dealer in tobacco is specially concerned in the foregoing act, the prohibition applies with equal force to "every person" who "gives or in any way furnishes" tobacco or cigarettes or cigarette papers to another person "under age of eighteen years." It is therefore the duty of the peace officers of Sonoma to arrest not only dealers who violate any provision of the act, but any person of whatever age who furnishes tobacco, etc., to anyone under eighteen. It is reported that many instances of the latter offense have been publicly noted recently.

A Runaway Accident.

Saturday evening the team of the Swiss American bus became frightened while being hitch up and ran away, dragging the bus behind them.

L. L. Johnson who was driving slowly homeward with a bale of hay in the rear of his light rig heard the team thunder across the bridge between the El Verano bridge and Verano station, and thought it a race and did not look back. The team thundered on, and just as Johnson turned out to let them pass the tongue of the bus struck the bale of hay and the contact was so great that Johnson's rig was overturned and he was thrown face downward on the ground. The wheels of the bus passed over his shoulders and legs and he was severely bruised and lacerated. Help from the nearby resorts came at once, and in a dazed condition he was rushed to Sonoma, and was then taken home, where he now lies recovering from his wounds. His rig was demolished and the mystery will never be solved as to how he missed the flying hoofs of the frightened steeds, which were stopped immediately.

Mention of the accident was made at the practice meeting of the Sonoma Valley Band, of which Johnson is a member, and it was decided to give a benefit ball in his behalf on October 7th, possibly at Parente's Villa. Further details will appear in our next issue.

Grand Benefit

On Friday night, Sept. 29th the Sonoma Valley Band will give a grand benefit for its drummer, M. S. Beyers, in Union Hall.

Mr. Beyers has just recovered from a serious operation and six weeks illness and the boys feel that it is no more than right that they should help him bear the heavy expense to which he has been put.

Tickets will be placed on sale immediately, and the boys say they will limit the sale to not more than 100 tickets to an individual. Of course, one ticket is easily lost, so scatter a goodly number in your various pockets and help a good cause.

The San Francisco & Napa railway Company have sold to the Southern Pacific Company their railroad from Wingo to Ramal in Sonoma county and from Buchli to Union in Napa County.

According to figures published by the Citrus Protection League the shipments of oranges and lemons from Southern California during the year ending August 31 have broken all records. Forty six thousand carloads were sent east. The value of the shipments was $50,000,000, an increase of $20,000 over last year.

The Sonoma ball tossers have at last fitted the jinx that has shadowed them so persistently almost every time they played on the Sonoma diamond. Until Sunday it seemed as though they could win only when they went away from home where the odds were against them. Sunday last was the day for the change, and Company B, League of the Cross Cadets, were the victims.

The San Francisco boys were unable to hit the ball when hit meant runs, while the local batters slammed the sphere all over the lot—a total of 14 base hits being made off the opposing pitcher.

The features of the home team's playing were the battery work of Jensen and Block, a combination assist and put out by Block and Nordstrom, a sensational winning catch by Weaver and the double play following.

Score, Sonoma 10; Company B 2. The Sonoma team will play the Lovers, of Oakland next Sunday on the local diamond.

The Young Physician.

WHAT HIS EXPERIENCE PROVIDED.

In the early states it was usually the duty of a practicing physician to ride many miles every day on his regular round of visits upon his patients. In those days a young man who had received a splendid medical training in one of the best medical colleges of that day was accustomed to ride ten, twenty, thirty miles or more visiting the sick and afflicted. His success was soon phenomenal. Doctors and families called him for consultation to towns at considerable distances by rail. His specialty was the cure of those common and distressing diseases of women. He had early discovered that by combining the extracts of the following medicinal plants, in just the right proportion, without the use of alcohol his "Prescription" almost invariably cured such cases. Later, in order to place this remedy before the public in a shape easily to be procured, he established a laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., where regularly qualified chemists were put in charge to accurately prepare his "Prescription" and put it in shape for shipment to all parts of the world. This remedy, which he named Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, is not a "patent medicine" but a tonic and nerve for women, and a regular physician's prescription, and contains the following ingredients:—Lady's Slipper, root. Black

Coltsfoot, root. Unicorn root. Blue Cohosh, root. Golden Seal root, and chemically pure Iodine.

Dr. Pierce does not claim for his "Favorite Prescription" that it is a "cure-all." It is recommended as a most perfect specific for women's peculiar ailments. So uniform are the results which follow the use of this remarkable remedy, that it can be truly affirmed of "Favorite Prescription" that it always helps and almost always cures. Ninety-eight per cent. of the women who give this medicine a fair and faithful trial are cured and remain cured.

It is a powerful invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the womb and its appendages. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women, who are "run-down," "run-down," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or schoolroom, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

THE PROOF.

"I want to tell you of the great improvement in my health since taking your 'Favorite Prescription,'" says Mrs. H. S. Jones, of Kansas. "I was a weak and sickly woman, and had despaired of ever having good health again. Could not sit up all day. Indeed a great improvement before the first bottle was all used. Was suffering with almost all the ailments that a woman is subject to; had inflammation of the ovaries, painful and suppressed periods, and other symptoms of female disease. After taking six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' I felt like a new person. Can ride horseback and take all kinds of exercise and not feel tired."

Only one or two of these tiny, sugar-coated pills will regulate the system, tone up and set in healthy, vigorous action a foul stomach, and cure all the ailments which result. Little pills, little doses, produce great results. First put up by Dr. R. V. Pierce, over 40 years ago. Much imitated but never equaled.

Send 31-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing and get a copy of the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," over 1000 pages. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

How Pat Was Working When Eileen Arrived

A Labor Day Story By NORA C. MCARTHY

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"Pat," said Eileen when Pat started for America, "I hope you won't get mixed up in the labor troubles in that country. They say sometimes there's fightin' and O'm sheert ov yer gittin' killt."

"Niver mind, sweetheart. O'll take good care o' myself ag'in yer comin' ov to jine me and we'll be married and live in a nice little shanty and have a pig and a goat and five little gintle folk."

"But they say, Pat, that in America they don't have pigs. Anyway, they don't keep 'em in the house. O've heard that the pigs is all kept together and killed together—sometimes a mather of tin or a dozen at one killin'."

"That won't matter to us. We'll have one just to remind us of home. And we'll have the shanty O'm tellin' ye about vid the ladder goin' up to the second story."

"Och, Pat, they don't have ladders in America, they have stairs."

"Well, we'll have a ladder in our shanty just as we'll have the pig. And by that same token we'll have a coo for milk."

"But O'm told people don't keep coos of their own in that country. All the milk is put in a big tub and it's peddled out in wagons."

"But we'll have the coo for the same reason we'll have the pig and the ladder, to remind us of our beautiful island and the home one couldn't have in it, because we're too poor. But in America O'll git together the money for the shanty and the pig and the ladder and the coo, and we'll live like gintle folks."

So Pat folded the poor girl in his arms, the tears streaming down her cheeks at parting with him.

"What's the matter, darlin'?" he said, patting her fondly. "Don't be cryin'. It'll not be long before I send ye the money to come over to me, and be the time ye git there O'll have the shanty ready, so ye'll think ye're right here in our old Ireland."

"Oh, Pat, O'm feared ye won't succeed."

And so they parted. Pat with no more money in his pocket than to take him in the steamer across the ocean. The pair were too simple and uneducated to have formed any idea of America. Their dream of a home there was such as they might have at home had they the means to establish it, where the pig and the cow and themselves might all live together in domestic harmony.

Since Pat could not write, his letters from the new country, written by a friend, were of the simplest character. He realized that even if he could write his own letters he would never be able to convey to Eileen's simple mind the real America. He was too wise to attempt it. At first his letters began in the usual way with his class:

"I take my pen in hand to write you a few lines to say that I'm in good health, thanks be to God, hoping that you are the same at the present time."

Then followed hopes that the crops would be abundant and that different members of the family were well. One poor speller who indited a letter for Pat wrote, "This letter comes hoping that you are well as I am, thanks be to God."

"What's that?" said Eileen. "It comes hoppin'?" O' thacht it come by a ship."

Pat remained several years in America before he sent for Eileen. When he got a start he wrote, "Darlin', O'm buidin' the shanty." Then he bought the pig. Then the cow followed, his shanty was ready and Pat was ready to send the passage money that was to bring his sweetheart to him in America.

Before starting Eileen wrote that she wished he could bring the shanty and the pig and the cow to Ireland, but she supposed that if he could he wouldn't be able to make the money necessary to keep up the establishment. So she made her preparation to join him.

Pat knew the day she sailed and the day the steamer was due in New York. He wrote her that she would arrive on a holiday they kept in America called Labor Day. He would be busy on that day, and he would send his friend, Mike Fogarty, to the steamer to meet her and bring her to where he was working. Eileen thought Pat must be very industrious to work on a holiday, and she was glad and proud of him.

When the ship came up to the dock Eileen saw a man on it looking as if he might be Fogarty, and he was.

"Pat told me," he said, "to take ye where he's workin', and I will." He led Eileen to a street where great crowds were waiting for something to happen. Then came a band of music and men with sashes and scarfs on carrying horses. Among these men in a black clammer coat and silk hat she saw her Pat.

Pat caught sight of her and, dismounting, joined her.

"Is this the way ye're workin'?" she asked, astonished.

"Take her to the shanty," said Pat to Fogarty, "and O'll be there direct."

Fogarty led the girl to a five-story tenement house, where on the third floor she was ushered into a nicely furnished apartment.

"La sakes!" she exclaimed. "Did Pat earn the money for this ridin' on a horse wid a piece o' stove pipe on his head and a blue ribbon across him?"

Dr. Marks tells some amusing stories of the early days of the school in Byrna of which he was for so many years the head. Shortly after the school was opened King Thebaud said, "Will you teach some of my sons?" "Certainly," said Dr. Marks. "What ages do you like them at?" Dr. Marks replied, "From twelve to fourteen." The king said, "Bring all my sons between twelve and fourteen to me." Nine princes came in. Four came to school the next day, each riding on an elephant and with two gold umbrellas. Each also was escorted by forty soldiers. Afterward the whole nine came, so there were nine princes, nine elephants, eighteen gold umbrellas and 360 soldiers. The elephants stayed outside, but when the princes came into the schoolroom all the other boys threw themselves flat down on their faces on the ground. It was forbidden for any one to stand or sit in the presence of princes. Dr. Marks found this state of things very inconvenient, and the royal etiquette at school was at his request considerably abated.—London Globe.

The Whistling Jugs of Peru. The potters of ancient Peru used to manufacture an ingenious musical instrument which may very properly be called a whistling jug. In collections of antiquities it is called a silvador or silviro. Specimens are obtained from the ancient burial places of Peru. One of these consists of two vessels, whose bodies are joined one to the other, with a hole or opening between them. The neck of one of these vessels is closed, with the exception of a small opening in which a clay pipe is inserted, leading to the body of the whistle. The closed neck of this double vase is modeled into a representation of a bird's head. When a liquid is poured into the open necked vase the air is compressed in the other, and in escaping through the narrow opening is forced into the whistle, the vibration producing sounds. Many of these sounds represent the notes of birds; one in the collection at the British museum imitates the notes of the robin or some other member of the thrush tribe, peculiar to Peru.—Harper's Weekly.

Here and on the Moon. Things are six times heavier on the earth than they would be in the moon. A man weighing 150 pounds on the earth would weigh only twenty-five pounds on the moon. A player throw a baseball 100 yards here, but with the same exertion in the moon he would throw it 600 yards.

Ample Apology. An Irish lawyer once addressed the court as "gentlemen" instead of "your honors." After he had concluded a brother of the bar reminded him of his error. He immediately arose and apologized thus: "May it please the court, in the heat of debate I called yer honors gentlemen. I made a mistake, yer honors." Then he sat down, and if the court was not satisfied it did not disclose the fact.—Case and Comment.

Monkey Bread. African bionahs (also called monkey bread, sour gourd and lalo plant) were computed by Adamson, noted traveler, to have endured for 5,150 years. THE SEISMOGRAPH The seismograph is a most interesting instrument. It is kept in a sub-basement room, far from disturbing influences. There it records upon a strip of paper such earthquakes as may happen anywhere. The scientists then study the strip of paper and herald to the world the news that the tremor which shook down several cities was duly registered.

The seismograph is a remarkable contrivance, though in just what way is not yet determined. However, in the interests of science, it is as valuable as would be the imprint of the hoof upon the seat of the trousers of a man who had been kicked by a mule. After the event he could study the imprint and assure himself that he had been kicked.—Life.
